Job Description

Nureva is seeking an experienced and results-oriented technical training lead to develop and implement a global technical training program for our sales channel and end-users. The ideal candidate will have a strong background in adult learning principles, instructional design, and delivering engaging training sessions. Experience with technical product training, specifically in the areas of collaboration and audio/video products would be an asset.

You will

- Work closely with Sales, Support, and Product Management teams, to develop and execute a comprehensive technical training strategy aligned with business objectives
- Create engaging training materials, including presentations, manuals, and online courses
- Deliver effective training sessions to internal and external audiences
- Lead global training program logistics and scheduling
- Measure training effectiveness and identify areas for improvement
- Stay up to date on industry trends and good practices

You have

- At least 5 years of experience in training development and delivery
- A university degree or equivalent
- Strong written, verbal, and presentation skills
- A proven ability to work with cross-functional teams, and lead multiple projects and deadlines
- Proficiency in learning management systems and authoring tools
- Technical proficiency with experience in audio/ video conferencing and collaboration products (preferred)

We offer a competitive total compensation package, an open and collaborative office, and a great team environment in our downtown Calgary office and across our globally distributed team. ☒
